3. Read the following text, then answer the questions :

Recycling is when you take old things and turn them into new things. Do you know how it all works ? The first thing you have to do is to collect items that can be recycled. These include things made out of paper, metal, glass and plastic. Soda cans, newspapers, bottles, and bags can be recycled. Once you put all your items in a recycling bin, a truck comes to pick them up. Everything goes to a recycling place. There, the materials get separated. They go into different piles. There are special machines that crush each pile together.

Now let's take a closer look at how old paper is transformed. First the paper is torn into tiny pieces. Then a special water with chemicals is poured onto it. The fibres start to stick together. 3 Read the following text, then answer the questions :

Should we work all the time without having rest or entertainment ? The answer is that we cannot go on working without stopping from time to time to have some rest. If we did not do that, we could make mistakes and the quality of our work might get worse. An overworked person may end up by losing the ability to think clearly and having no energy to go on working.

Sleeping is one of the ways that renews everyone's energy. Sports and games are also important for brain workers who stay in closed offices and do not have a good chance to do exercises. They can make full use of weekends doing activities like swimming and walking in the open air.

We should try to forget about the worries of work and life for some time. Then, we can enjoy ourselves and return the next day to work with our energy fully renewed. Such change has a great effect on our health and performance.

Dear Mona,

How are things ? I hope you are well. Forgive me for the delay of my reply to you. I had a problem with my internet connection, so I just got your message with the picture of you riding your bike. From the smile on your face, I can tell how much fun you are having. I still remember when you could hardly ride a tricycle. You have come a long way !

Now, here is some advice. I'm sure you are a good rider. But, you will fall of that bike now and then. So, please get yourself a helmet. Wear it every time you ride. A helmet will help protect you from a head injury. Wearing a helmet when you ride a bike is as important as wearing your seat belt when you drive a car. When you come to visit me this summer, bring your bike and your helmet. We will take some great rides together ! That's all for now.

Waiting for your reply.

Yours

3 Read the following text, then answer the questions :

Our planet faces increasing dangers. But we have the power to preserve this precious world. We can depend on different energy sources like wind and solar power that can reduce harm to the earth. This can save energy and make the world a cleaner place. Simple acts like preserving water, reducing waste and saving energy are needed. Simple everyday habits can help keep our community. Protecting natural habitats is also important for climate change. Let's say "NO" to unnecessary single-use plastics, and think of the power of "reduce, reuse, recycle" different things such as plastic bottles, old metals, paper products or any other materials. Recycling can help us keep our community clean and save different sources. By working together, we can cultivate a greener future, plant trees and have more green areas. Imagine a world where we enjoy clean air and lovely green places. It starts with each of us, one green step at a time.

A. Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d :

1. The underlined word "preserve" can be replaced by ....

Birds are remarkable creatures that affect the hearts of many people with their beauty and behaviour. There are over 10.000 different kinds of birds around the world. Bird size varies greatly, ranging from 2 inches to 2.75 metres. Strangely, some birds like the penguin cannot fly. Other birds are known for being intelligent like parrots.

Birds enjoy the freedom of moving anywhere without limits. They are quite social and enjoy singing as well. They are very important for the environment as they help control the insect population, spread seeds and help plants grow.

Most people like birds and enjoy listening to their songs. That is why some people keep them in cages. They think birds are happy there as they provide them with food and a safe place. In fact, birds enjoy flying and singing freely. If you like birds, open their cages and let them fly and feel free.

3 Read the following text, then answer the questions :

We can't live without protein. Protein is important for everyone, not just athletes and body builders. Protein is essential to build bones, and body tissues, such as muscles, but protein does much more than that. Protein participates in every process of a cell.

Protein is found in both meat and beans, each offering benefits to our health. Meat, such as beef, chicken, and fish, is a rich source of complete proteins. Meat provides us with iron, zinc, and vitamin B12, which are important for energy and our health, too. On the other hand, beans, including black beans, lentils, and peas, are valuable plant-based sources of protein. Beans are also high in fiber and support heart health.

Both meat and beans are important sources of protein in a balanced diet. The choice between them depends on individual preferences, needs, and health goals. Having a variety of protein sources, including both meat and beans, supports our health.

A. Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d :

Many different wild animals throughout the world are in danger. An endangered species is a type of animals or plants that will probably become extinct. There are thousands of animals and plants that are endangered worldwide. Most countries have laws to protect endangered animals.

The reasons for this are many, but we must blame pollution, the destruction of the animals' natural environment and man's greed. Waste from factories causes great loss of river life. Some animals are endangered because their habitats are being destroyed because of the increase in population, which has meant more buildings, more vehicles, and more pollution. People are building cities and cutting down trees where animals live. Other animals are endangered because people are hunting and killing them.

Some of the endangered animals in the world include the black rhino found in Africa, the orangutan found in the country of Malaysia and the blue whale. Finally, other endangered species examples include the Bengal tiger, giant panda, mountain gorilla, sea lions and others.

3 Read the following text, then answer the questions :

Recycling is very important because it helps us to take care of our planet ! When we recycle, we don't throw away things like paper, plastic bottles, or cans. Instead, we collect them and send them to specific places where they can be made into new things. This is really useful because it means we can use things again and again, which saves energy and helps keep the Earth clean and healthy.

Recycling saves energy that's because recycling materials uses less energy than making new products. It reduces the amount of waste that is sent to landfill sites. When we leave waste on landfill sites for a long time, it produces different kinds of harmful gases. Also, carbon dioxide increases when we burn fossil fuels which are gathered in landfill sites causing climate change.

By recycling paper and wood we cut down fewer trees and forests where many different kinds of wild animals live which means that we can save them by reducing the damage done to their natural habitats. To conclude, recycling is very important for both people and the environment.

3 Read the following text, then answer the questions :

Over 65 years ago, the world's first computer was born. Scientists called it "The Baby", but it was huge. It filled a full room! Three people made the computer and programmed math problems for it. On June 19, 1948, the computer solved its first math problem - in 52 minutes! At that time, this was amazing.

Computers are now much smaller. With touch-screen technology, many computers don't need extra things, like a keyboard or a mouse. In the future, computers probably won't need these things at all. Some computers, like the smartphone, can fit in one hand. Computers are also more powerful today.

How else will computers change in the future ? A computer's brain is a chip inside the computer. So, computers will be smaller and even more powerful. Perhaps they'll even think like humans! Maybe we won't need to tell computers what to do because they'll decide for themselves!

a. Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d :

1. The first computer filled a ....
   a. palace b. hand c. room d. building

Have you ever imagined life without cell phones ? People who are fifty or more will find this question surprising as they used to live without mobile phones. Younger generations, on the other hand, think that they cannot do without mobile phones.

50 years ago, if someone had said that people would be walking around with small wireless telephones in their hands, we would have called him or her mad. However, almost everyone now has at least one of them.

People everywhere are walking around talking on their mobile phones. The phones are even being used for more than just communication.

People use them for many different purposes. Mobile phones are used to play games, watch films, listen to music, pay money online and find information. They have become a very important part of our lives.

Mobile phones have not only made our lives more comfortable but they have changed the way we live. Before we had mobile phones, it was hard to reach a friend that was away from home. But thanks to these small devices, people can now get in touch with anyone at any place and at any time. To conclude, they have made us reachable wherever we are and whenever anyone likes.

3 Read the following text, then answer the questions :

Happiness is something which we feel when we are full of joy. On a cloudy day, the clouds hide the sun, but the sun is always there. Happiness is like the sun, it is often hidden by the clouds of worries. We have to forget them to feel happy. It is close to us but hidden and covered from sight, by our worries like a treasure at the bottom of a muddy lake. It is always there whether you see it or not. You don't have to create happiness. All you have to do is calm down your mind because when there are a quiet mind and inner peace, there is happiness. Happiness makes us positive. All of us try to get happiness all the time. When a person does something really good, he feels happy. If we hurt others, we become unhappy in the end. A happy mood gives us the energy to work our best but an unhappy mood takes always the energy. Happiness is related to the world in which we live. If we live in a bad world most of the time, we remain unhappy. One alone cannot be happy if others are unhappy. It comes from our own actions. Happiness doesn't come from others. Living the present is happiness.

3 Read the following text, then answer the questions :

Nothing can live without energy. People, animals and plants need energy to live and machines need energy to work. Most of the energy we use still comes from fossil fuels like coal, oil and gas. We call these non-renewable forms of energy because they are limited and expensive. The use of fuels increases the amount of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere and pollutes the environment.

Now water and wind are used to produce electricity. They are inexpensive, clean and do not pollute the environment. We call them renewable forms of energy. But energy from the sun is probably the best form of renewable energy. Life on earth depends on the sun. Without the sun, plants wouldn't be able to make food. Animals wouldn't have food. The earth would be cold and uninhabited.

That is why there is a great interest in solar energy. It is important for us to save energy in our homes and workplaces in order to stop using up non-renewable sources of energy.

C. Reading Comprehension

Read the following text, then answer the questions :

The Chinese invented paper, and they were the first to use paper banknotes for money. Before paper banknotes were invented in the seventh century, wealthy Chinese traders had used metal coins. These had a hole in the middle so that traders could carry them on a piece of materials. But these were very heavy to carry. As a result, traders left the money with someone they trusted.

People in Europe only started to use paper banknotes in the seventeenth century in England. The King needed money to help fight a war with France. Banks encouraged people to leave money with them and gave them handwritten notes saying how much they had.

The paper used for banknotes is usually made from a mixture of paper and cotton, and sometimes other materials. Although these other materials make them stronger than normal paper, most paper banknotes only last for two years. For this reason, some countries tried using plastic banknotes in 1983.

3 Read the following text, then answer the questions :

Keeping the environment clean is important for everyone who lives on the Earth. Man has invented a lot of useful things that save all people but at the same time, they are harmful to the environment. Cars are useful because they carry us from place to place, but they are harmful to the environment because they give out the burning fuel which causes pollution to the air, man and animals. Factories make things to people and to the country as they help increase the country money. But there are some factories that throw their waste and rubbish in water and this kills huge numbers of fish too. So, we should plant more trees and stop cutting them down because they are a source of life as they absorb carbon dioxide and keep the air clean.
